Zeus did seduce Leda in the shape of a swan, but she actually laid four eggs, which gave birth to two pairs of twins: 2 boys, Castor and Pollux (the Twins in the Zodiac), and 2 girls, Helen of Troy and Clytemnestra. Two of the children were divine, one boy and one girl, Helen, while the other two were mortal. The girls later married two brothers: Helen married Menelaus (before eloping to Troy with Paris) and Clytemnestra married Agamemnon, who later led the Greeks to besiege Troy and get back Helen from Paris.
disegni dell'autore
di segni dell’autore

Leda

Per tenere in piedi Leda.

To let Leda stand up.

Sollevare il braccio sinistro e inclinare il busto all’indietro.

Raise the left arm and head back the bust.

CIGNO - SWAN

Utilizzare carta da origami.

Leda: use slides

Cigno - Swan
disegni dell’autore

CIGNO – SWAN

La A e automatica
Fold A is automatic
LEDÁ E IL CIGNO di Luca Vitagliano

disegni dell’autore